My name is Isa, and I am a muslim, part of the religion of Islam. Did you know that the name Isa is actually that of a very important prophet in my religion.

As a Muslim, we believe in one God, known as Allah, and his final messenger is prophet Muḥammad (peace be upon him). Islam teaches me many things, such as the way I should live my life, for example, always speaking the truth and respecting those older than me, but it also teaches me what I shouldn't do, to become a better person, like never hurting a person's feelings, lying, or harming the environment. These guidelines my religion teaches me, allows for me to live a good life, not affecting anyone else in a negative way, which I believe is very important. I love my religion so much , and it is so important to me.
